1. Town Hall Q & A

Last month, we held town hall meetings to answer your most pressing questions—and you showed up with some great ones!

This week, we're sharing answers from those meetings, starting with Business Operations, Program, Membership, and Volunteer Development. We'll keep the conversation going in next week's 5 on Friday with answers from Property and Product Program—stay tuned!

Business Operations

How is the search for a new GSHG CEO going? Is the search staying within our council?

The search for the CEO has begun. The board is working with a firm that specializes in Girl Scout CEO searches (they have placed several over the years). The position was posted nationally and open to interested internal and external candidates. Hopefully, we will have a new CEO in place when our CEO, Sue Else, retires in May.

Why does the Augusta office have so much turnover?

Turnover is not unique to Augusta and is a challenge for GSHG, Girl Scouting, and many other service organizations. Working for Girl Scouts requires non-traditional hours and some periods of high pressure, especially for our front-line roles. The demands can be challenging for our largely female workforce, especially those with families. We continually strive to make the council a rewarding place to work.

Can there be more support from council for difficult parents?

Our membership staff and regional directors try hard to mediate these situations – when we are aware of them. Over the years, girls have been moved from one troop to another where the personalities are a better fit. We also work with troops when there are internal disputes—often they involve money. If there is a general type of assistance or specific need, please let us know.

Program

Camping - should really offer a day camp week at each camp. One week should be for day campers and one week for resident camp. Can we have day summer camps at Camp Tanglewood next year with a separate week for resident camp?

We are so glad there is an interest in day camp! After last season, we looked at our data and it showed girls preferred day camps that were not as isolated as our camps. To meet their needs, we are offering day camps at our service centers in Savannah, Albany, and Columbus. Registration numbers already exceed last year's day camps. We also want to give a shout out to all of the service units hosting local day camps in their towns! Thank you for providing wonderful opportunities and fun without long drives!

Can the council allow Service Units to book council camp a year out?

Starting May 1 of this year, SU managers will be allowed to book an entire camp for a SU event/camporee a year out. The reservation will then be verified by our rental coordinator. Thank you for planning!

Membership

Can we have a mentor program for new leaders/new troops?

A mentor program for new leaders is a good idea, and best suited for the SUs to set up. There are some established service units that have a process for assigning mentors. For areas without service units, partnering with neighboring service units might be an option. We are open to ideas.

What is going on with Direct Delivery (DD) in the Greater Savannah Area?

We are currently serving 273 girls across 6 schools. Those schools are: Haven Elementary, Heard Elementary, Godley Station, Georgetown K-8, Juliette Gordon Low School of Humanities, and Susie King Taylor Community School.

During this school year, our girls have had a lot of fun working on and earning their GS Ways badge, their Financial Literacy badge, and Cookie Business badges, participating in the cookie program, and completing our Mental Wellness patch program, Resilient, Ready, Strong. And, our Daisy Girl Scouts have earned all of their petal badges! Before the year ends, our Cadettes will be working on the aMaze Journey and completing their service project at Georgetown K-8th School.

Our DD program throughout the council is going strong. We are currently serving 1720 girls through Direct Delivery and expect to serve another 500 girls before this current GS year ends.

Can travel request forms be improved with responses given in a timelier manner?

We have recently reviewed our Troop Travel request process and did an update to our internal Standard Operating Procedures and our forms. Our Membership team received training, and as a part of our new process, we decided that the Troop Trip Coordinator, the person who submitted the Troop Trip Application, will receive communication from their Membership Manager on the status of their Troop Trip Application within 3 business days of us receiving the request. If a troop has submitted a request to travel internationally, which should be submitted 12 months in advance, that request is reviewed by our Program Department within 3 business days of being received.

Volunteer Development

When can we expect a large outdoor activity certification training weekend, like the one held at CMJ each spring, for volunteers in the Savannah region?

We have Basic Outdoor Skills and archery scheduled for the Savannah region during the first weekend of May. We also offer outdoor certifications at LEAP every fall at Camp Low.

Can we have more training in Augusta for water safety, outdoor skills, archery, etc.?

We are currently trying to schedule outdoor training for the Augusta region, but it can be difficult to find a location in the area. With so many state parks and other locations also dealing with hurricane damage, it has proven a challenge to find locations. Once Camp Tanglewood opens this fall, we will be working to get our regularly scheduled outdoor training back up and running in the Augusta region.
